Adaptive cinema.

Axessplayer is the platform for adaptive cinema: entertainment that knows who is watching and re-cuts itself, in every language, for everyone. One story, told the right way for each viewer.

MISSION

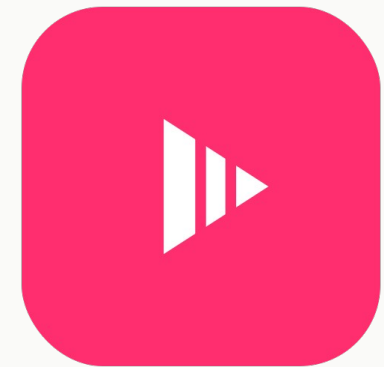

Make every story adaptive, accessible, and personal by default.

VOICE

Confident, editorial, plain-spoken. We state the idea, then prove it.

TAGLINE

One story. Every language. Every person.

ANATOMY

The mark

A play button, re-cut into vertical slices. One story, re-cut for every viewer.

The wordmark

Set in Outfit. 'axess' in ink, 'player' in rose, always lowercase.

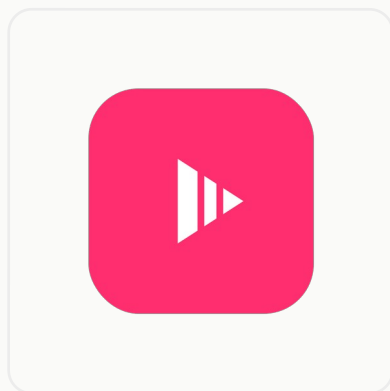

Lockup

Mark + wordmark, vertically centered, with fixed spacing. Use as the default.

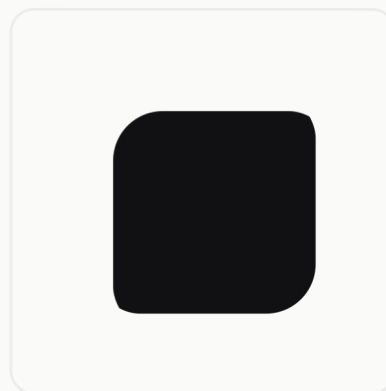

The mark.

Use the standalone mark where the full lockup will not fit: app icons, avatars, favicons, stamps.

Give it room to breathe.

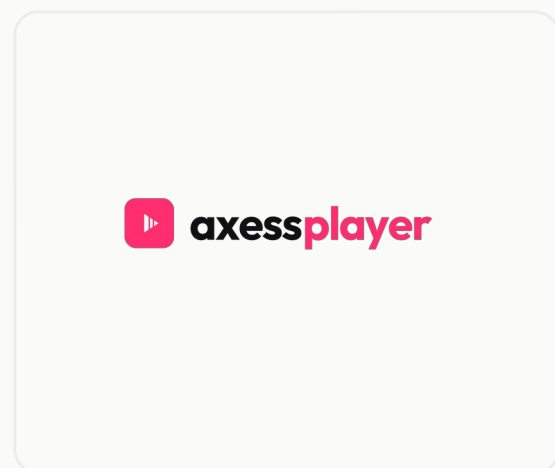

Clear space = the height of the mark (X) on every side. Keep this margin free of text and graphics.

MINIMUM SIZES

On black, lit up.

On dark surfaces, 'axess' becomes white and 'player' stays rose. The mark keeps its rose tile and white play.
